NEW AGREEMENT RAISES COST FOR PRISONERS

The Adams County Commissioners this morning signed a new agreement with the Allegheny County Workhouse which upped the cost of keeping prisoners there by a nickel a day; agreed to accept an elderly man in the county home and agreed to provide $10 to help a World War II veteran return to his home in Florida.

The agreement with the workhouse will run for six months—with Allegheny County signing agreements for that length of time only. Under the agreement Adams County will have to pay $1.98 per day for men kept there from the county. During the first six months of the year the county had prisoners there for 1,558 man-days at a cost of $3,021.79 or $1.93 per day per man. The county has 15 prisoners in the workhouse.

Agreement was reached with a foster daughter of an 85-year-old countian by which the elderly man will become a resident of the county home. The foster daughter explained that her foster father is confined to a wheel chair. Her daughter is losing her sight and must take treatment in Philadelphia and Washington hospitals for some time. The foster daughter explained she was afraid to leave her foster father alone during the time she would be with her daughter, and agreed to reimburse the county for any cost above the social security payments made to her foster father. She added that she had lost her parents in the flu epidemic of World War I, and had not known until the time of her foster mother's death that "this couple took me in as a child and raised me because they were friends of my parents."

Aid Veteran
Roy Alexander, Veterans Affairs director for the county, made the application for $10 for "outdoor relief" for the World War II veteran.

The veteran, a native of Florida, has come to Gettysburg some years ago and secured employment here. Later he developed tuberculosis. Discharged from the Mont Alto sanitarium last month after two years' treatment, he returned here to find himself unable to work and be-

YORK SPRINGS ASKS RESIDENTS TO SAVE WATER

York Springs, missed by the weekend storms that brought more than two inches of rain to Gettysburg and some other parts of the county, has a water shortage on its hands and the borough council has appealed to residents to use water only for necessities.

Notices have been sent to all water users in the borough stating: "Our water supply is at a critical stage. We ask that each user conserve water as much as possible. If you will refrain from watering lawns, washing automobiles and have faulty plumbing repaired, it will help us bring our water supply back to normal."

"A plumber will be around to check each home for plumbing defects that might involve loss of water. You may hire him or a plumber of your own choice to make the needed repairs. There is only three feet of water in the reservoir now."

Call In Engineer
Reports from York Springs stated that the well drilled last winter to take the place of a former well when the first water supply failed has not been delivering enough water to supply the community's needs.

Constant attention by councilmen who control pumps that would work automatically if there were a sufficient water supply has been required. The reservoir was drained and sealed to cut down on loss of water there.

Lawns, gardens and fields in the York Springs section were described as "very dry" and it was the lawn and garden sprinkling that has been cutting down on the town's reservoir supply.

A Harrisburg engineer was in York Springs today conferring with borough authorities on new steps to provide an adequate water supply for the community.

575 In Swim Classes
Mrs. Raymond P. Hill and Chairman Haenn reported on sessions of the international Red Cross convention they attended June 12-15 in Atlantic City. The theme was "keeping up with changing times in services and public relations."

Reporting for the water safety committee, Mr. Bulleit said a total of 575 have enrolled in the Red Cross water safety classes this summer.

Mrs. Bachman, reporting for home service, said 78 office visits involving eight servicemen, nine veterans and four civilians were made in May. The June total was 85 involving 13 servicemen, 10 veterans, three civilians with financial assistance of $192 going to 10 persons in that time. Refunds totaled more than $85.

STORK'S RECORD CLIMBS HIGHER

Births in the Gettysburg district during the first six months of the year total 521, according to the report of the registrar of vital statistics, Ralph C. Geiselman.

The number is 39 more than the 482 listed for the first six months of last year, when the largest number of births in a single year so far was recorded.

While the number of births showed an increase for the six months period, the number of deaths also showed an increase, with 114 listed so far in 1955 as compared to 101 in the comparable period a year ago.

Last month there were 63 births in the area and 20 deaths, as compared to 77 births and 16 deaths in June a year ago.

Gettysburg accounted for 44 of the births in June. There were 44 males and 39 females born here. There were no births in the remainder of the district, Strasban, Cumberland, Freedom and Highland Twp. There were nine male and seven female deaths in Gettysburg during the month; two male and two female deaths in Cumberland Twp., and none in Strasban, Highland and Freedom Twp.

Mrs. Oveta Hobby Resigns As Secretary Of Welfare

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby today resigned as secretary of welfare effective Aug. 1. President Eisenhower picked Marion B. Folsom, now undersecretary of the treasury, to succeed her.

The President called a special news conference to make the announcement, and, in an emotion-packed scene, paid warm tribute to Mrs. Hobby as she sat by his side in the conference room.

On her part, the retiring Cabinet officer told Eisenhower that as he prepares to go to the Big Four conference at Geneva "everyone of us will be praying" the sessions will lead to a "truly universal peace."

The President and Mrs. Hobby entered the conference room together.

Resignation Expected
Mrs. Hobby's resignation had long been expected, and the President apparently took it for granted that everyone knew that was the purpose of the conference. Without ever formally announcing her resignation, Eisenhower turned to Mrs. Hobby and remarked solemnly:

"Oveta, this is a very sad day." The President said his mind at the moment went back to a day in 1942 when Mrs. Hobby arrived in London to take command of the Women's Army Corps.

Eisenhower, at that time, was preparing to lead the Allied forces against Hitler's armies. Mrs. Hobby led the WAC splendidly and it turned out to be one of the finest organizations "the Army ever had," Eisenhower said.

After the conference room ceremony, the White House made public an exchange of correspondence between Eisenhower and Mrs. Hobby.

"Personal Reasons"
"Personal reasons of a high order compel me to take leave of my post as secretary of health, education and welfare," Mrs. Hobby wrote.

While she did not specify those reasons, friends said Mrs. Hobby is leaving because of the illness of her husband, former Gov. William P. Hobby of Texas.

"Only such reasons could persuade me to leave your administration or the responsibilities of the department, and if agreeable, I would like to make Aug. 1 the effective date of my resignation," she wrote.

KIWANIANS HEAR DR. KEEFAUVER

The week meeting of the Gettysburg Kiwanis Club was held Tuesday evening at the Dutch Cup board. The meeting was in charge of Paul Fox, vice president.

Harry W. Redding gave a report on the Kiwanis International convention he attended at Cleveland from June 26 to 30. Clifford Gunnett, Raymond Dubs and William H. Menges, from Hanover, who were delegates from that club, also spoke to the convention. A recording of the address made there by the new president of Kiwanis International, Jackson S. Raney, an Indianapolis school executive, was played to the club. It was pointed out that the local Division 13 had a representative from every club.

Dr. L. C. Keefauver, superintendent of the Gettysburg Joint School System, gave a talk on the problems created by the rapidly increasing number of pupils and the steps that have been taken to meet this situation. Dr. Keefauver in referring to the "little red school house era" pointed out that the last one in this district was closed at the end of the last school year.

One of the problems faced, he stated, was to hold good teachers, due to the low salaries. Dr. Keefauver pointed out that to have a good community and good business, it must have good schools.

Other guests included Dr. Lloyd M. Keller, Baltimore; Dr. Seymour Dunn, Geneva, N. Y.; Dr. Larson, Detroit Lakes, Minn.; and Clyde Spangler, New Freedom.

AIRPORT SITE SALE BILL GETS COMMITTEE OK

Legislation to permit the state to sell an 85-acre Butler Twp. site it bought in the 1930 to develop as an airport is in position for final House action next week after winning approval of the State Government Committee, the Associated Press reported from Harrisburg today.

The proposal, sponsored by Rev. Mikula (R-Luzerne), would authorize the Property and Supplies department to sell the tract to the highest bidder at a public auction. Proceeds will go into the state's general fund.

The land is part of the "old Harbaugh estate," was bought about 1930 or 1931 from Herbert Decker, Gettysburg R. 3, and is located near the Reading Railroad in the Keckler's Hill area.

Mr. Decker said that he was told then when the land was purchased there were plans for its development as an "emergency landing field."

The state never made any use of the land, but part of it has been farmed over the years by Mr. Decker.

The property is to the west of the Allen Thoman property on the west slope of Keckler's Hill.

MANY ARTICLES TO BE OFFERED AT JCC AUCTION

Thousands of articles, ranging from electrical appliances to antiques, from garden hose to furniture, and from paint to an ice cream freezer, will be offered Saturday afternoon and evening at the second annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Auction, the committee in charge announced today.

Profits from the auction will go to the Warner Hospital Fund, the Junior Chamber has announced.

Fred H. Attinger, co-chairman of the event, said that merchants of the area are "cooperating in a wonderful fashion with the auction. It looks like we will have practically anything anyone could wish to buy for the auction. The sale will start at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon and continue until everything is sold. We expect to have a fairly large amount to turn over to the Hospital Fund when the auction is ended."

The auction is conducted on an 80-20 basis, with 80 per cent of the auction price going to the person supplying the article for auction and 20 per cent going to the Junior Chamber—in this case, to the Hospital fund.

Persons or business places that may wish to enter articles in the auction are asked to telephone Gettysburg 175 to arrange for members of the Jaycees to pick up the articles for the auction.

11 Killed When "Tanker" Plane Crashes In Flames

MERCED, Calif. (AP)—Eleven men died today as a four-engine "tanker" plane crashed after leaving Castle Air Force Base near here. There were no survivors.

Fire broke out on the plane as it reached an altitude of about 1,500 feet. It crashed within a moment or two, exploded as it hit the ground, and was demolished.

The flames fired the grain field into which the plane fell.

The tanker, a KC97G military version of the Stratocruiser, was on a routine refueling mission from Castle AFB near Merced.

The crash occurred about 15 miles northwest of Merced, near the community of Cressey.

The refueler was to have intercepted a flight of bombers on a fueling test.

The first report on the crash was a telephone call to the Sheriff's Office from the rancher on whose property the plane fell.

"Bodies were strewn all over the field," he said.

The tankers are used to refuel jet bombers and interceptors, and can carry more than 6,000 gallons of jet fuel.

They are 117 feet long, with a wingspread of 141 feet.

720,000 Polio Shots Released

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has released enough Salk vaccine for another 720,000 anti-polio shots.

The Public Health Service action yesterday brought the clearance of vaccine supplies in less than a week to over one million cubic centimeters. Last Friday, the government freed 300,000 units. One c.c. of vaccine is used in a single antipolio shot.

But even with the release of the 720,000 c.c.'s of vaccine made by Eli Lilly & Co., Indianapolis, the total falls far short of the six million shots the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said on June 24 it would need to complete the free two-shot inoculation of first and second-grade children.

THREE TAVERN PATRONS SLAIN FOR GIGGLING

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—A drinking truck driver, irritated by the "laughing and giggling" of fellow patrons, shot two couples in the head in a neighborhood tavern last night, state police reported.

Two women and a man were killed. Another man was near death today.

Kenneth Kuzner, 30, of Detroit, was seized in his truck a short time later near Pontiac, 25 miles from the scene. Police said he readily admitted the shootings and could give no explanation except the irritation other patrons caused him. They said he had been drinking but was not drunk.

"I was just out for a good time," police quoted him as saying.

All Total Strangers
Kuzner told officers the four victims were "total strangers." They were sitting together in a booth at Edna's Bar and Restaurant at suburban Grand Blanc when Kuzner walked in.

State police said Kuzner sat stoically at the bar drinking a beer. When he finished, they said, he went to a rest room, came out and strode up to the two couples' booth, spoke not a word and began firing point blank with a .38-caliber automatic.

Predicts Ferry Link Over Delaware Bay

CAPE MAY, N. J. (AP)—An officer of the Army Corps of Engineers predicts that a ferry providing a Delaware Bay link in a New York-Florida coastal highway will be a reality in the near future.

Col. William Murphy commented on the ferry last night after making a trial run of the projected 13-mile route between here and Lewes, Del., aboard an Army craft.

He said he could see nothing to hinder early operation of the ferry from the southern terminus of the 165-mile Garden State Parkway to Lewes, pick up point for the coastal highway.

2 YOUTHS HELD FOR BOGUS SOS

NEW YORK (AP)—Thomas Maldona, 21, and George B. Teen, 17, are being held for a federal grand jury on charges of sending false distress signals that touched off a costly and useless sea search.

The two committed "a serious offense and one which is viewed with great concern by federal authorities in Washington," declared Asst. U.S. Atty. Jerome Lewis in U.S. District Court in Brooklyn yesterday.

Two charges were filed against Maldona and Teen—operating a radio station without a license and sending false distress signals. Each count carries a maximum penalty of a year in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Lewis said he would seek an early trial for the pair and the government hopes to make an example of them to discourage any other would-be pranksters. Maldona was held in $10,000 bail and Teen in $5,000.

PENNSY LOSES RAIL APPEAL

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The U.S. Third Circuit Court of Appeals has turned down the Pennsylvania Railroad's request for a temporary injunction against the Reading Company's construction of a bridge over the Schuylkill River at Cromby, a mile north of Phoenixville.

Robert V. Massey Jr., attorney for the PRR, sought the injunction Monday pending the court's decision on the appeal.

The court yesterday also granted permission to the Interstate Commerce Commission to intervene in the case.

On June 14, Federal Judge Thomas J. Clary dismissed the PRR suit which sought to restrain the Reading Co. from building a 1,877-foot spur connecting with the new Philadelphia Electric Co. plant at Cromby. The plant already is served by the PRR.

Judge Clary held that the Reading Co. did not need ICC permission to build the spur, as alleged by the PRR. It was on this ground that Samuel R. Howell, general counsel for the ICC, asked leave to intervene in the appeal heard Monday.

Thomas B. K. Ringe, attorney for the Reading Co., in answer to the PRR's petition filed Monday, said that delay in construction of the spur, until the court can hear the case in the fall, would mean a loss of about $165,000 to the Reading Co.

The service would feature training of the blind for jobs and placement of them in such posts.

Sponsoring the measure are Sens. McClellan (D-Phil.) and Koppelman (R-Allegany).

Other new Senate bills would: Permit the purchase on credit of beer and liquor on railroad dining and buffet cars by passengers holding authorized credit cards issued by railroads or railroad credit bureaus—Malley (R-Blair).

Mr. King stated that the openings in the teaching staff are for art, music, librarian, special education in the high school and math and science in the junior high.

A contract for a new school bus was awarded and the bids were opened by Bernard W. Dutterer, chairman of the transportation committee. After a study of the bids it was decided to award the contract to Basehor Ford Company, Littlestown. The bid specified a Thomas de luxe bus, mounted on a Ford Model 700 chassis, at a total cost of $5,134. Charles M. A. Schildt, chairman of the property and supplies committee, reported that Robert Johnson was unable to respond to the bid. The commission said he had been dropped.

The commission after the investigation suspended Johnson's license for six months and revoked the matchmaker's and promoter's license of Pete Moran. They have indicated appeals to the courts.

The Johnson-Mederos fight triggered a 90-day suspension of professional boxing in Pennsylvania. It expires Aug. 9.

The proposed code also would require all financial operations connected with a boxing bout in Pennsylvania to be recorded with certified vouchers by promoters and managers.

Leader Offers Boxing Code With Medical Advisory Unit

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Leader proposed a new boxing code for Pennsylvania today setting up a medical advisory board to handle all medical regulations for professional sports in the state.

The proposed code, scheduled for introduction in the General Assembly Monday, also would exact a 5 per cent tax on all closed circuit televising of fights in Pennsylvania regardless of where they are fought.

This stipulation also would require that the tax be paid on all fights televised in theaters.

The code was drawn up by the three-member state Athletic Commission at a two-day session here, with assistance from bill writing experts from Atty. Gen. Herbert B. Cohen's office.

Probed Drugged Fights

The proposed new boxing code was developed after the commission investigated a May 6 fight at Philadelphia between Harold Johnson and Julio Mederos which ended in the third round when Johnson was unable to respond to the bell. The commission said he had been drugged.

The commission after the investigation suspended Johnson's license for six months and revoked the matchmaker's and promoter's license of Pete Moran. They have indicated appeals to the courts.

The Johnson-Mederos fight triggered a 90-day suspension of professional boxing in Pennsylvania. It expires Aug. 9.

"Mr. Roberts," the war comedy which ran 149 weeks on Broadway, is being staged at the Totem Pole Playhouse, Caledonia. Forrest Compton plays the title role of the World War II naval lieutenant who longs for combat, but whose hard-bitten captain will not approve his transfer from an ancient cargo-carrier.

Terry Clemes, the only woman in the cast, plays an army nurse who creates some excitement on the plodding supply ship. Others in the cast are: Doug Robinson, Robert Herrman, John Eames, Pete Putas, Chet Szajna, and Joe Scappe. William Putsch directs "Mr. Roberts," and Tom Vawter designed the sets.

The next meeting of the boards will be held on Tuesday, August 9.

THANKS LEGION FOR SPONSORING STAY AT CAMP

Donald L. McKerrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore W. McKerrick, Steinwehr Ave., who was selected by the Albert J. Lentz Post of The American Legion to attend the Keystone Boys Camp at Lock Haven, Pa., today expressed his thanks and appreciation for the honor of being selected.

He told The Gettysburg Times: "I would like to take this means of expressing my sincere appreciation to the Albert J. Lentz American Legion Post for sponsoring me to Keystone Boys Camp at Lock Haven, Pa. This camp not only provides recreational facilities for a young man but is one which is very educational."

Elected To Office

"During the camp period, which started June 25 and ended July 4, programs were conducted in the operation of electing all county, city and state officers. Elections were conducted and since I was among the electors and also was elected to the office of County Clerk of Courts, City Engineer and State Secretary of Public Welfare, a very everlasting impression of such activities was imprinted on my mind."

"Recreational contests were also conducted in which all participated. "An opportunity such as this is not afforded every young man, so again I would like to say many thanks to our own great American Legion Post, the Albert J. Lentz."

ENGLISH MODEL HANGED TODAY FOR SHOOTING

By JIM KING

LONDON (AP)—Ruth Ellis, beautiful blonde mother of two children, was hanged today for the Easter Sunday murder of the lover who jilted her.

The 28-year-old divorcee, a former model and night club hostess, was the 14th woman to be hanged in Britain this century and the third since World War II. Her sentencing revived a nationwide controversy over capital punishment which continued unabated today.

A crowd of 1,000 persons—some weeping, others laughing—stood in the grimy north London street outside the ivy-covered, red-brick Holloway Prison as hangman Albert Pierrepoint pulled the death trap.

Calm Broke

Its slam resounded through the building, touching off hysterical cries from the other inmates.

Reports from inside the prison said the icy calm Mrs. Ellis had maintained during her trial in June and even since finally broke last night. Prison sources said she sobbed herself to sleep, screaming, "I don't want to die."

The matrons let her sleep until the last minute, foregoing the usual 6:30 waking hour.

Earlier in the night she had said goodbye to her mother and father, who reported she was resigned to her fate. The woman had refused to appeal for mercy. Home Secretary Gwilym Lloyd-George, the only man who can recommend royal clemency, earlier this week turned down petitions signed by more than 25,000 persons.

Shot Her Lover

Mrs. Ellis at her trial admitted tracking her lover, 25-year-old David Blakely, to a London bar and pumping four bullets into him. Claiming her jealousy had disturbed her emotions, she tried to get the murder charge reduced to manslaughter. The court threw out that defense and a jury of 10 men and two women found her guilty June 21, after only 24 minutes of deliberation.

Just before the execution Mrs. Ellis' brother Julian Arthur Nelson strode up to the gates, beat on them and handed a bunch of white carnations to a guard.

Returning to the crowd, his face ashen and his lips trembling, he said, "I just told him to tell Ruth I would never forget her and God bless her."

WILL OIL TWO NEW OXFORD STREETS SOON

Plans to oil Pleasant St. and George St. were outlined by the New Oxford borough council Monday evening at a meeting held at the fire hall there.

The council also reviewed plans for the School Alley and decided to improve a portion of the berm on the west side of S. Water St.

Reports at the meeting showed that the roof at the filter plant has been improved. Plans for an automatic control for regulating the water level in the town standpipe were studied as to the best type to use and methods of installation.

Expenses Topped Income

Treasurer John M. Acker's report showed the borough spent $123.50 more than it took in during the month. It began June with a balance of $101.10. Receipts included $204.92 from water rent, $36 from water service, $1,549.84 from 1955 tax, $252 from the Brethren Home, $5 from permits and $75 from fines. Total receipts were $2,233.66 while disbursements were $2,347.36.

R. W. Wolfe presided at the meeting. Other councilmen attending were John P. Smith, A. E. Rohrbough and Paul H. Harbaugh. Others in attendance were Borough Manager Lawrence C. Bevenour, Burgess Guy A. Staub, Officer Walter E. Bemiller, Secretary C. P. Keefe and Ralph A. Gordon and Charles E. Slaybaugh.

Bills totaling $1,299.62 were approved, including $892.39 to be paid from the general account and $407.23 from the water works account.

ganzed by the Wilderness Club of Philadelphia.

They had been here four days with two adult leaders, W. H. Oesner and O. D. Dickenson, both of Philadelphia.

Mt. Temple is regarded as one of the toughest climbs in the Canadian Rockies. Four Mexican climbers were killed in the same area last fall.

Of the 11 boys, only Woodfield had had much climbing experience. The others during their trip had made one climb on a mountain in Yellowstone Park and a brief trip on a peak near here.

Oesner took 24 of the boys to a supply camp 3,000 feet up Mt. Temple Monday and the group of 11 wanted to climb higher. With Oesner's permission and warnings to be careful, they moved on up the peak.

Saw Small Avalanche

Woodfield said they turned back at the 10,000-foot level after seeing a number of small avalanches.

"I heard and saw the avalanche," he said. "On the way up we had seen several snowfalls and we turned back because of that. I yelled 'avalanche' and dug my ax into the ice and hung on."

After the avalanche roared past, Woodfield said he "heard Wats crying under the snow. I used my shoe to dig him out and got everything but one leg."

The boys wore only ordinary boots or spiked baseball or track shoes.

Park Supt. B. I. M. Strong said they had started the climb without notifying the park staff.

Dickenson, a leader of summer traveling camps for nine years, said "every practical precaution" was taken.

Today's Talk

PLANTERS

As a boy I used to read things about the big planters of the South without wondering about what the term meant. Then I learned that the planters were the men who had great estates given over mostly to the planting, cultivating and harvesting of cotton. Later when I visited in the South and saw the complete story demonstrated in the final bales that I understood what was meant by "King Cotton."

Planters — what a useful occupation! Planters of cotton, corn, wheat, and scores of other essential things. How much we owe to those who plant and who with courage face all emergencies and risks that a nation may have food.
Many times I have looked upon those vast fields of western Canada where wheat and other grains are planted and reaped, and then shipped to all parts of the world.

We can all be planters and roadrunners. We can plant kindness, courtesy, courage, patience and hope in the minds of a multitude of human beings; we can help to mend their way through life by suggesting the significance of honest service rendered, and not to worry over "split milk"
at any time, but to pick up the fragments and put them to work again.

There are seeds growing in my mind, constantly, that are the result of much that has been sown
there by friends through the years,
or from seeds that I have purchased through the reading of many a useful book. Seeds are blown and tramped under foot, to take root and life later on, about which we take no notice, but we take note of what happens years later in the shade trees and abundant harvests!

What a thing of glory it is to become a planter! I look out from where I write and note two great maple trees that I set out twenty-five years ago. They are creations of beauty today, shading the garden like huge umbrellas. Let's try and be better planters!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Power Of Pleasantness"

CHILDHOOD NOW

My father, when a little boy, was good as good could be—
At least, as I remember now,
that's what he told to me.
When I became a father and the children had to scold,
How good I was when I was young to them I often told.
But every age is different. Being good long years away
May easier have been for me than being good today.

We'd simpler forms of pleasure;
the distractions then were few.

We had no television when our homework we should do.
No radio, no movie tempted me
when I was small.
Life seemed one round of study
in the childhood I recall.
So remembering my behavior,
which I boast of, I'll allow Things are different for these youngsters. They are being children now.

They are faced with more temptations; more desire from books to stray.
They're the children of the present; not of fifty years away.

To their childhood life has added
a long list of modern toys,
There are things we've never heard of in our age of girls and boys.
And I think we should remember when the children we discuss.
To be good now may be harder than it ever was for us.

1955 Version Of Hobble
Skirt Fall Dress Sensation

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—A 1955 version of the hobble skirt, designed by Cell Chapman and named the Castle Walk, is the sensation of New York's current week of fall fashion showings.

The astute Cell, known for strictly fabulous cocktail and evening gowns beloved by all female television stars, dramatizes this return to the modes of World War
I in spectacular fuchsia, lemon, mauve and gold lame satins and brocades. The skirt is draped peg-top fashion about the hips, hugs the ankles in back and is slit to the knee in front. This makes it possible to walk or dance with ease, and yet preserves the hobble skirt look.

College Girls And Eskimos
Gasp and applause greeted these sensational styles when they were presented to members of the visiting fashion press, plunging into a week of hectic fall showings by New York designers.

Another star of the opening day
of showings was Claire McCardell, who always can be depended upon
to make fashion headlines.

In direct contrast to the polished and sophisticated gowns shown by Cell Chapman, the casual Claire outdoes even herself in immortalizing
the fashionably careless look with a costume that might have been designed for space travel and certainly should provide insulation at subzero temperatures. In bulky black, beige and brown checked tweed, it consists of a loose fitting-length coat lined in fur and fastened with leather straps, plus a matching jumper dress. The coat has a huge cape collar which can be worn as a parka, and the whole should have wide appeal for college girls and Eskimos.

HOUSE GROUP
SPLIT ON WAY
TO GET FUNDS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House
Public Works Committee was split several ways today over how to raise 37 billion dollars to pay the federal share of a proposed 12-year road-building program.

For this reason, committee members doubted they could complete action on a highway bill at a closed-door session today.

Several key members predicted approval of a subcommittee plan to raise gasoline taxes from 2 to 3 cents a gallon and to hike taxes on trucks, diesel fuel, truck tires and tubes. These increases would bring in more than 800 million dollars a year.

Pack Ike's Plan
But others promised a last-ditch stand in the committee for President Eisenhower's plan to create a new government corporation to finance the building program through long-term bonds which would not be chargeable to the national debt.

Still others called for a compromise to pay part of the road bill through immediate tax increases and part through bonds.

Some members wanted to drop the whole program and others
wanted to pass the buck on financing to the House Ways and Means Committee, which traditionally starts all tax bills in Congress.

ADMITS KILLING
SISTER-IN-LAW
AND HER BABY

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—An unemployed taxi driver has admitted the assault slayings of his sister-in-law and her 19-month-old daughter, police say.

Joseph Reade, 26, who described himself as a "damn maniac," was to be arraigned in City Court today
on two counts of first-degree murder.

The stocky, sandy-haired Reade
signed a statement, police said
last night, admitting he strangled and beat to death Mrs. Beverly Reade, 26, and her daughter Cheryl Lynn early yesterday.

"Inwardly I feel that I want to be the best Christian in the world and outwardly I'm a damn maniac," he told police. "I can't control the outward part and I don't know why."

Francis Reade, 24, the husband and father, found the nude bodies on a blood-stained mattress in a bedroom of his four-room apartment as he returned home from work on the night shift at the Jamestown Metal Specialties, Inc.

Police said the prisoner, a native of Corry, Pa., was married and the father of one child but was separated from his wife.

Has Police Record
They said he had a previous police record including charges ranging from petit larceny to disorderly conduct. The authorities said he was questioned in 1951 in connection with a morals charge involving a teen-age girl but was released.

Police Chief John Paladino said
Joseph Reade told this story:
He visited Beverly the night before and played Monopoly for a while. As he was preparing to leave, he looked at her "standing there in her shorts" and, "I just smacked her before I even knew myself I hit her."

He said he assaulted both mother and child after beating both unconscious. Then, after drinking some wine, "I decided the best thing was to finish them off."
Police arrested him at a tavern
the next morning after a neighbor reported seeing him at the Reads home the night before. He was taken to a state mental hospital at Gowanda last night for examination.

RUSSELL HAS
NEW ARMY PLAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell
(D-Ga.) proposed today a new revision of the military reserve plan strongly urged by President El-senhower and the Pentagon.

As he outlined it in an interview,
it would include a volunteer system for teen-age reservists but would omit authority for compulsory reserve drills for past and present service veterans. The Pentagon has asked for both features.

"I believe this is closer to what the administration wanted than I first thought," said Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

He called the committee into closed session today to vote on details of the legislation aimed at building up a combat-ready reserve of 2,900,000 by 1960.
Russell has maintained that it is unfair to require former服服服 men to serve with active reserve units while many other young men never don uniforms.

TAX REFUNDS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sen. Barr
(D-Allegheny) has introduced a new bill requiring lists of tax refunds to various corporations to be made public.

The measure would apply only to refunds in excess of $5,000.
Barr introduced a similar measure earlier in the Legislature session but said his new bill is drafted more efficiently.

The subject of tax refunds was broached during last autumn's governatorial election campaign and Democrats promised at the time to make such matters available for public inspection.

Other new Senate bills would:
Place employees of the Commonwealth's penal system under the State Police Retirement Pension
Fund system—Stiefel (D-Phila.).

Appropriate $25,000 to purchase
five tracts of land in West Chester for the West Chester State Teachers College—Harney (R-Chester).

Provide for licensing of insurance adjusters by the state insurance commissioner — Wade (R-Cumberland).

Permit township supervisors to assess for tax purposes all property within 2,000 feet of a fire hydrant, rather than the present 600 feet—Peeler (D-Indiana).

Final Vote On FEPC Delayed As GOP Splits On Age Amendment;
Democrats Have Separate Bill

HARRISBURG (AP)—A final vote
on fair employment practice legislation bogged down Tuesday in a scrap among Senate Republicans on whether an age amendment should remain part of the bill.

Sen. Mahany, Republican floor leader, postponed the vote until next week to permit both Republicans and Democrats to draft amendments to the controversial measure.

Postponement of amendment action occurred Monday night after
Gov. Leader urged the General Assembly to remove as "inadequate"
the age clause.

Meanwhile in three-pronged developments on the bill, Sen. Holland (D-Allegheny) introduced still another bill to name a nine-member commission to study employment problems of the aged—thereby separating that category from others covered in the anti-job discrimination bill.

Both Holland and Leader insisted that age should be considered in legislation apart from that banning job discrimination because of race, creed, color or national origin.

In a special message to both the Senate and House, the governor declared:

"Distinctive Treatment"
"The nature of the problems of the aging worker is such as to underscore the necessity of distinctive treatment apart from FEPC considerations, if an effective FEPC is to be enacted."

Holland asserted that age in employment is a "problem in itself."
His bill, for which bipartisan co-sponsorship was offered, would provide for appointment of an advisory commission to study ways of restraining aged workers and finding new jobs for them.

The Department of Labor and Industry would be given a key role in counseling, rehabilitation and vocational training for aged workers. An appropriation of $200,000 to the department would be provided.

Mahany said his colleagues have numerous proposals, technical and otherwise, for amending the FEPC bill before a final vote is taken—including the age clause amendment.

Other Bans
The GOP caucus has discussed among other things proposals to ban discrimination in employment because of sex, selective service status and physical handicap.

Leader in his message to the Assembly said the age study unit would have the aid of persons representing business, labor, government and the general public.

"Passage of the bill," he said,
"will permit leading authorities in the fields of health, education and social science to assist in combating ways and means to combat successfully the problems, which,
even now, are arising as our popu-

Geneva Conference Fateful Gamble For Highest Stakes

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

The summit conference of the Big Four will find world communism at a crossroads.

Much has happened in the Soviet Union since President Eisenhower saw it at the end of World War II. Undoubtedly Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen has been bringing the President up to date on those changes, which loom importantly at Geneva.

The Geneva conference is a fateful gamble for high stakes. The Soviet leadership has, in a sense, anted up the future of world communism. The West may be gambling on its faith in human nature and a belief the Communist experiment to produce a machine called "the new Soviet man" has failed.

New Russian Common Man

Two world wars and modern technological progress have produced a new Russian common man. He seems gradually to be realizing his own strength. He is looking around his vast, rich and beautiful country, a land he loves passionately, and sees promise of a peaceful and prosperous life.

But he is afraid too. I have spoken to him in many places and found him deathly afraid of a new war. He accepts most, if not all, of his government's peace propaganda because he dreads war. The ordinary Russian is not a Communist party member—there are only six million party members in a country of 210 millions—but he is an important factor at Geneva.

Constant Tug Of War

A constant tug-of-war goes on inside the U.S.S.R., mirrored by its press and propaganda. It is on all levels—economic, social, political, cultural—between old and new. Bolshevism, a product of the late 19th and early 20th centuries, is dead. Now the type of dictatorship going by the unwarranted name of communism is fighting a back-to-the-wall battle for the purity of its doctrine. If it loses in the Soviet Union, it loses in the world.

Communist boss Nikita S. Khrushchev and the party have not surrendered their pretensions of world Communist domination. They remain doctrinaire Communists, ostensibly devoted to Lenin's principles and giving at least lip service to Stalin's.

On the other hand, the new collective bluntly and outspokenly publicizes the shortcomings of the economy. They have emerged from behind the forbidding Kremlin walls and made friendly gestures to representatives of other systems. They have pushed aside the bluster of Stalinism in favor of a more fetching approach of surface reasonableness and amiable words.

3 Years In Iron Lung Bring Death

DALLAS (AP)—Three years in an iron lung ended in death on Monday for pretty Marjorie Jeanne Marrs.

She was 16, shapely and planning to marry soon when she was stricken in June 1952 with both spinal and bulbar polio. She was little more than skin and bones—and completely paralyzed—when death came.

In the polio ward in Parkland Hospital, attendants especially remembered the songs which she, Paul Alexander and Mary Sides sang.

Paul, 7, couldn't speak because of a hole in his throat. Mary, 16, was deaf and nearly mute—but a lip reader. Paul and Mary merely moved their lips while Jeanne did the singing.

Takes Live Shell Out Of Sewer Line

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—"That kind of work is enough to kill a man," commented a passer-by as he watched William Whalen, 43, a plumber, trying to dislodge an obstruction in a sewer.

For another 10 minutes Whalen banged away at the object with a long iron bar. He finally loosened it and hauled it to the surface. That's when he really began perspiring.

He discovered he had been hammering on a 75mm. shell weighing 11 pounds, 10 inches long and 3 inches in diameter. Authorities later determined the shell was live. But they couldn't figure out how it got into the sewer.

Lifer Stabs Con In Trenton Prison

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—A lifer in for murder stabbed another convict who had been trying to collect a debt from him during an exercise period at the N. J. State Prison on Monday.

Officials identified the inmates as George E. Davis, 29, of Freehold, serving a life term for a Monmouth County murder, and Harold Konigsberg, 26, of Jersey City, serving 14 to 15 years for robbery in Hudson County.

Konigsberg was taken to the prison hospital suffering from seven stab wounds of the chest, but his condition was described as not serious.

Experts say the best way to remove a tick which has become embedded in your skin is to put lighter fluid, nail polish remover, chloroform or ether on him.

HEMLINES IN THE NEWS AT FASHION SHOW

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—Hemlines make news in Pauline Triger's brilliant collection of fall fashions, as she introduces intermission length for dinner and theater wear.

Shown principally in straight-as-a-dagger sheath dresses with matching jackets, the intermission costumes and just above the ankle, often with a border of fur at the hemline. One striking example is a blazing red sheath and jacket with a discreet mink collar.

Harvey Berin and his designer Karen Stark have fun this season using lush fabrics such as velvet and satin in austere simple sheath dresses as demure as school uniforms.

Berin also uses a bell silhouette effectively in a group of dresses and costumes in featherweight French tweeds and worsteds, carefully shaped and beautifully fitted, the bell-shaped skirt flaring smoothly toward the hemline.

Couple Sentenced For Defrauding FHA

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Conley, formerly of Reading, pleaded guilty on Monday to charges of defrauding the Federal Housing Administration.

Conley, 45, was sentenced to three months in prison by U.S. District Judge John L. Miller. His wife, Mildred, 29, was fined $100 and given probation for a year.

The couple persuaded homeowners to take out FHA loans for repair work with the assurance they would receive a rebate when the loans were approved, the government said.

The Conleys were among 23 persons indicted on similar charges last March. Four others received fines and probation recently, and 16 are still awaiting sentencing after pleading guilty.

The government said the Conleys worked mostly in the Fairmont, W. Va., area.

RED FARMERS COMING TO U. S.

LONDON (AP)—Thirteen Russian farm leaders left Moscow by plane Tuesday for the United States, where they will tour Iowa, Nebraska, South Dakota, Minnesota and California.

Moscow radio, announcing their departure, said the group is led by Vladimir Matskevich, first deputy minister of agriculture.

The Russians will set out on their tour of American farm states July 17, but will have no fixed itinerary. They can stop and look around wherever and whenever they like.

SEES APPROVAL FOR LEADER'S INCOME LEVY

HARRISBURG (AP)—Chairman George J. Sarraf (D-Allegheny) today predicted "no trouble" in what he said would be approval by the House Ways and Means Committee of Gov. Leader's $11 million dollar classified income tax plan.

Sarraf tentatively fixed next Tuesday for a meeting of his unit which he said would okay the income tax for a floor vote despite Republican opposition and outspoken "no" votes within his own party.

"I anticipate no trouble in getting the income tax bill out for a floor vote," he told a newsman. "There will be some votes against it in committee but most of these will come from Republicans."

One Member Opposed
The committee is divided between 14 Democrats and 8 Republicans. The only Democrat on the committee who has publicly announced against the income tax is Rep. John T. Walsh (D-Allegheny).

Sarraf strongly hinted that the administration's timetable calls for committee approval of the income tax next Tuesday, with debate coming up a week later on July 25 and a possible final vote on July 26.

The tentative timetable was uncovered as House Republicans took a stand yesterday against voting for any appropriation bills until a tax program is enacted to finance them.

To Use Pressure
The House Democratic leadership pushed for a vote on appropriations to strengthen its hand in seeking a showdown on the income tax, cornerstone of the administration's $1,800,000,000 budget for the current biennium.

In a formal statement issued by Rep. Charles C. Smith, House Republican floor leader, after a closed caucus of the 96 Republican assemblymen, Smith said flatly:

"We will vote against all appropriation bills until a tax program is passed."
But Democrats put up nearly a billion dollars in appropriations bills, including $23 millions for schools, for a floor vote in an open move to exert pressure for the income tax.

In Seventh Month
Taxes dominated the legislative scene as lawmakers struggled for a seventh month in seeking a solution on taxes.

The House approved and sent to the Senate a measure to allow communities to decide by local referendum whether they want bowling after 2 p.m. on Sundays. But the lower branch voted down a proposal which would permit the sale of liquor to air travelers.

In the Senate, Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman, said he would introduce legislation to tie in a proposed 150 million dollar bonus for veterans of the Korean War with a graduated income tax.

Sees 106 Votes
Such levy, long backed by Democrats, met with immediate opposition from Republicans.

Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, Senate Republican floor leader, said he had no objection to submitting a tax along with the bonus question to a referendum but "I do object to inclusion of a graduated income tax proposal."

The Senate, after a two-day session, recessed until next Monday. The House, however, met during the day.

Meanwhile, Rep. Albert S. Readinger, House Democratic floor leader, insisted that a Ways and Means Committee vote on the income tax next week would open a showdown on that levy.

He forecast there will be 106 votes (the necessary constitutional majority) to pass the measure.

The Soviet visit and a reciprocal trip by U. S. farmers to Russia originated in a suggestion by the Des Moines Register and Tribune earlier this year. It noted frequent official complaints about farm operations in the U.S.S.R. and said the Russians should go to Iowa to see how things are done.

Nikita S. Khrushchev, Soviet Communist party chief, promptly accepted the invitation.

2 Bandits Repeat Successful Holdup

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—A pair of bandits who held up the Hotel Scranton six weeks ago made a successful return engagement on Monday.

Howard Buckelkamp, room clerk at the four-story hotel, told police the two men, who removed $300 from the safe Monday, were the same pair who robbed the hotel of $502 last May 30.

BOOST BUS FARES
HARRISBURG (AP)—Base fares will be boosted three cents July 27 by Motor Transportation Co., Inc., Hazleton, for rides in the Hazleton-Beaver Brook-McAdoo-Kelley areas of Luzerne, Schuylkill and Carbon counties.

The Public Utility Commission, in deciding against a suspension of the new rate Monday, said the increase will produce an estimated $2,065 additional revenue yearly.

ERIE SUPPORTS BEAVER VALLEY TURNPIKE ROUTE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Officials of the City of Erie today joined other western Pennsylvania groups in support of the Beaver Valley route for the proposed northwestern extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Following a meeting yesterday of western Pennsylvania civic and business leaders with two members of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, Arthur Gardner, mayor of Erie, said:

"Myself and the City Council of Erie have unanimously agreed that the best route for extension of the Turnpike from the present western extension to Erie is through the Beaver Valley."

15 Miles Shorter
In stressing his city's support of the Beaver Valley route as one that "would aid best the development of our port," Gardner compared the proposed route with another under consideration by the commission some 30 miles east through the Allegheny Valley.

"Some 1,700 industries would be served by routing the extension through the Beaver Valley and only about 200 would be served in the Allegheny Valley route," Gardner said.

James S. Lyon, general manager of the Washington, Pa., Observer, and spokesman for a group representing five western counties, told the commission the Beaver route in addition to saving millions of dollars in construction costs "would serve a far greater population and much more industry than the other route."

He noted that the Beaver route would be some 15 miles shorter than the Allegheny Valley route.

SENATE PASSES EXTRA FEE BILL, UNANIMOUSLY

HARRISBURG (AP)—Legislation to levy a $5 extra fee to motorists who want license plates with special letter and number combinations went before the House today. The measure was passed in the Senate yesterday, 48-0.

As introduced originally by Sens. Stevenson (R-Clinton) and Derk (D-Lycoming), the bill provided for only a $2 extra fee bringing the total to $12 a year.

The Senate also approved unanimously a House-passed bill to give aidmen and justices of the peace jurisdiction in civil actions in motor vehicle law violations up to $300 rather than the present $100. Other House-passed bills approved by the Senate and sent to the governor were:

Permit a district attorney in a seventh or eighth class county to hold solicitorships except where the solicitorship would pass on his accounts.
Authorize the pay of county policemen assigned to inside work because of physical unfitness to be set by the salary board.

America, and United Negro College Fund.

Where measurable, the results of major Council campaigns were highly encouraging, according to the report. Traffic deaths took a continuous downward trend for the first time since World War II, with the death rate the lowest on record—6.5 per 100 million vehicle miles traveled. Community Chests raised $302,500,000. The Red Cross raised 96.4 of its $85 million goal and enrolled 21 million Americans as members.

Forest fires dropped 12 per cent from 1953. The Ground Observer Corps had approximately 300,000 active volunteers at year's end, with another 700,000 trained for participation if needed. Cash sales of U. S. Savings Bonds E and H were nearly $4 billion 900 million, the highest in the nine post-war years, while almost 75 per cent of matured E Bonds were still being held by their owners.

Progress was also made in combatting the nation's shortages of engineers and nurses. There was an 18 per cent rise in freshman engineering enrollments despite an over-all decline in college enrollments. And more than 45,000 students entered professional schools of nursing.

The Council's chairman, Stuart Peabody, assistant vice president of The Borden Company, pointed out that these successful campaign results demonstrate the truth on two concepts upon which The Advertising Council was founded: (1) "A free, democratic people, informed of the nation's needs and problems and urged to help meet and solve them will respond with action" and (2) "Advertising, with its peculiar ability to generate attention and interest, is a highly effective means of communicating facts and ideas to vast numbers of people."

Other media which helped project The Advertising Council's programs during 1954 were: Consumer and house magazines, business papers, radio, television, transportation and outdoor advertising.

The world's first electric elevated railway appears to have outlived its usefulness. Shareholders and directors of the Liverpool Overhead Railway have agreed on the closing of the line, although a special act of Parliament will be required to release the company from its obligation to run "the railway." The first section of the Liverpool Overhead began operations in March, 1893. The line was bombed during the war but because of its valuable contribution to the war effort, authorities allotted the steel necessary for its reconstruction. Abandonment of the line has been proposed because passenger traffic continues to dwindle and dock authorities no longer consider the line essential.

The Federal Railways of West Germany are accommodating cyclists by providing special trailers to carry bicycles. Each trailer has racks for storing the bicycles and a compartment for luggage. There are about 250 of the trailers in use, mostly attached to diesel-powered passenger cars used on short runs.

A railway was first used as an arm of military operations between first class powers in the Crimean War, best known for its "Charge of the Light Brigade." During the siege of Sevastopol in 1954, both English and French troops suffered terrible hardships because of lack of supplies. It was said that the transport arrangements over the last six miles from the base at Balaklava to the fighting front were the most difficult in all the 3,000 miles from Plymouth, England, to the British camp. The end of 1954 saw 8,000 men sick and less than half the army fit for service. A railroad to transport food, clothing, hospital supplies and arms was a necessity. Construction of the Balaklava Railway began early in 1855. Work was rushed, so that in less than three months the line had reached army headquarters. In September of that year, the Russian forces withdrew from Sevastopol and the British and French pushed on to victory. The railway was given much credit for the Allies' ultimate success.

Committee Refuses To Give President $30 Million For Free Polio Vaccine To Needy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee Tuesday rejected President Eisenhower's request for 30 million dollars to provide free Salk polio vaccine for the nation's needy children.

It explained in its report that it could not approve the request because the program has not yet been authorized by Congress. Authorization legislation is pending in Senate and House committees.

The committee took this action in approving a $1,648,876,128 appropriations bill to finance scores of federal activities. This was $278,909,740 less than Eisenhower asked, with the big cuts applied to requests for atomic and defense plant equipment and construction programs.

The bill, last scheduled to come before the committee at this session, is subject to amendment when it reaches the House Thursday. However, the House generally accepts its Appropriations Committee's recommendations.

Although it turned down the request for money to finance the President's free vaccine program, the committee did approve related bids for 4½ millions to help the states operate their own polio vaccination programs, for $300,000 to help prevent a black market in polio vaccine, and for $400,000 to build cages for 800 monkeys needed by the National Institutes of Health in its polio vaccine work.

In another major action, the committee ordered all work halted on the new 125-million-dollar Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

The committee said it wants the design "more firmly established" before any more money is spent.

The group also:

1. Approved funds to help states develop plans for the evacuation of 92 potential A-bomb target areas.

Reject Peace Ship

2. Refused to finance construction of an atomic-powered merchant ship sought by Eisenhower to demonstrate peaceful uses of atomic energy. Here, too, the committee said specific authorization legislation has not been enacted.

3. Granted one million dollars to finance the forthcoming summit meeting of Big Four leaders and subsequent international conferences.

4. Criticized the President's farm program.

5. Turned down the administration's request for $17,100,000 to build two new prisons, one for juveniles and one for adults. It said it would consider the Prison Bureau's request next year.

The biggest part of the bill was an allotment of $1,395,879,000 in new cash for military construction programs, plus approval of the use of $483,612,000 through transfers from other military funds. This represented a cash cut of $77,671,000 and a reduction of $61,388,000 in transfer authority.

Father Backs Son's Denial In Ship Hoax

ASBURY PARK, N.J. (AP)—The father of George B. Teen, one of two youths arrested in the Blue Star fishing boat hoax, says his son told him he had nothing to do with it.

And, George Teen, said on Monday, "I believe him for I never have known him to tell a lie yet. I am backing the boy all the way and I am going to have him under my supervision from now on."

The younger Teen, 17, was released in his father's custody after being freed on bail at the Mineola, N.Y., District Court, in connection with the transmission of phony radiotelephone messages that electrified the Eastern Seaboard.

He and Thomas Maldona, 21, of East Rockaway, N.Y., are accused of touching off a widespread two-day air and sea search last week for a non-existent fishing boat named the Blue Star that supposedly caught fire off Barnegat.

NOTED SCULPTOR WEDS MODEL

LONDON (AP)—Sir Jacob Epstein, American-born center of many an artistic furor, confirmed Tuesday he had secretly married Mrs. Kathleen Garman, his 50-year-old secretary and the model for several of his statues.

The 76-year-old sculptor confirmed the marriage to a reporter aboard the French liner Liberte in mid Atlantic. The artist is en route to Philadelphia for the unveiling of his five-figure work, "social consciousness."

Members of his household said the wedding was last Friday. The bride was reported by friends on her way to Italy, seeking to avoid publicity.

Epstein was born on New York's East Side, the son of Jewish refugees from Czarist Russia. He came to Britain on a vacation 50 years ago, stayed and eventually became a British citizen. Queen Elizabeth knighted him last year for his services to art.

First Wife Died In 1947

His first wife, Margaret Gilmour Dunlop, died in 1947. They had a son and a daughter.

The new Lady Epstein's 27-year-old son by her first marriage, Theodore Garman, was found dead in his Chelsea study last year. He was a promising artist.

Although Epstein's numerous portrait busts have always been popular, many of his larger pieces have aroused widespread controversy. French police banned his nude statue on the Oscar Wilde Memorial in Paris.

Lady Epstein served as the model for what many critics have termed the sculptor's masterpiece, "The Girl with the Gardenias." She and Epstein have known each other 30 years.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—The first meeting of a civic committee, trying to raise a million dollars to bring a new industry into northeastern Pennsylvania, Monday night announced a total of $280,000 in pledges had been received.

The group, known as "Operation More Jobs," is seeking the million dollars to build a plant which is scheduled to house a corporation that promises to employ some 1,200 persons, 80 per cent of whom will be men.

Repairman Killed On Roller Coaster

NEW YORK (AP)—For 23 years Edward C. Santo, 43, had been a roller coaster repair man at Coney Island, nimbly stepping from the tracks to the safety of a catwalk when the thrill-ride cars approached.

Monday he apparently failed to hear a three-car train coming. It struck him as he was examining tracks about 35 feet above ground and knocked him 10 feet over to the catwalk.

At the end of the ride horror-stricken passengers reported the accident to Santo's son Edward Jr., 17, who was handling fares and sending out the trains at the roller coaster entrance.

Young Santo rushed to his father, who died a short time later at Coney Island Hospital.

Digs Out After Being Trapped For 2 Days

SUPERIOR, Neb. (AP)—Wendell Springer, 20, Bostwick, Neb., dug himself out of the wreckage of his car on Monday and hailed a passing motorist after being pinned in the wreckage since about midnight Saturday.

But Springer survived and after nearly two days freed himself. He was reported in critical condition in a Superior hospital, and could not be questioned.

Firemen To Parade At Arcadia Tonight

Plans to participate in the Arcadia firemen's parade this evening were made at the monthly meeting of the Taneytown Fire Co. Monday evening in the Municipal Building. It was decided to participate in a number of other carnival parades during the next two months.

No final report on the Taneytown carnival was given, but treasurer David Smith estimated the net profits at approximately $2,500. The money is to be used for the purchase of new equipment, principally new hose and, with other funds, the firemen hope to trade in their 1941 Chevrolet pumper for a new truck.

The date for the annual outing was set at August 25 and committees were appointed to make arrangements.

It was reported that the Taneytown firemen answered two calls during the past month, one to extinguish a woods fire and the other a burning tar wagon.

Emmitsburg

EMMITTSBURG — The monthly meeting of the VFW auxiliary was held on Thursday night with Helen Sanders, president, presiding. Because of the small attendance installation of new officers was postponed until the next meeting. The July meeting of the Department has been cancelled. The next meeting will be held on August 3 at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial Building in Baltimore.

The family picnic which had been scheduled for Sunday, July 10, was cancelled. Instead, a covered dish social will be held following the August meeting with each member bringing what she wishes. In order to raise funds, a penny party is scheduled for Saturday, July 23, to be held on St. Vincent's lawn.

Mrs. Helen Dougherty was appointed chairman of this committee with Idella Pitez, Loretta Adelsberger and Evelyn Ott assisting her. Ann Ohler's name was drawn for the draw prize but she was absent. The next meeting will be held August 4.

GOP SENATORS CRITICIZE CUT IN FOREIGN AID

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Senate Republicans today criticized a $28-million-dollar cut by the House in President Eisenhower's foreign aid program and urged at least partial restoration by the Senate.

The Senate GOP Policy Committee arranged to discuss the $2,638,741,750 money bill behind closed doors today amid indications it would informally suggest an increase.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said the House action "is almost a vote of lack of confidence in President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles just as they are setting out for one of the most important diplomatic conferences in 10 years"—the summit talks at Geneva.

Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill) said "the House nipped this bill too much" and said he would seek some restoration by the Senate Appropriations Committee, on which he serves.

Sen. Butler (R-Md) blamed the "Democratic leadership" in the House for having "seriously impaired the President's position at the Geneva conference by recklessly reducing the foreign aid program." He added in a statement

Many Factors Cause Milk's Butterfat Test To Fluctuate

By FRANK S. ZETTLE
Adams County Farm Agent

We are often asked by dairymen if the butterfat from milk changes and what causes these changes.

Butterfat content of milk from the same cow can change, and for several reasons. For instance, milk produced the first few days after a cow freshens usually tests fairly high. After the first week or 10 days, the test on freshened cows usually will decline slightly. From then on it generally will go up until the end of the lactation.

The average test may be low if the milking herd includes a large number of cows that have been fresh only a month or so. Then the test will go up as these cows get further along in their milking period.

Changes in feed may affect fat percentage temporarily. Putting cows out to pasture usually lowers that fat test but increases milk flow. For that reason the total amount of butterfat produced likely will say up or increase.

Another factor in lower butterfat tests is incomplete milking. The strippings are much higher in fat than the rest of the milk. Leaving this high-fat milk might also increase the test of the following milking.

Metallic Zinc Paint Protects
More and more metal buildings and roofs are being used by farmers and their maintenance is important.

One coat of metallic zinc paint, followed in three years with a second coat, will protect zinc or galvanized surfaces from rust for about 10 years. You can use other pigments for the second coat, but they may decrease paint life as much as two-thirds.

Here are a few precautions to make painting easier and prolong paint life. Metallic zinc settles out and is different to remix, so buy fresh metallic zinc paint when you are ready to use it. A paint with 80 per cent zinc dust and 20 per cent zinc oxide in the pigment is recommended. Ninety per cent oil and 10 per cent thinner and drier make a good vehicle.

It is not good economy to paint new galvanized roofing. The ideal time to apply metallic zinc paint is when rust spots just begin to show. If a new roof must be painted, for the sake of appearance or a color scheme, wait six months for the first coat.

Paint durability decreases with the amount of rust on old surfaces. A wire brush will remove excess and scaling rust . . . and heavier coats of paint are needed on these areas.

More Fun In Farm Pond Fishing

Fishing in some of our farm ponds can provide a lot of fun for farm families, along with their neighbors and fisherman friends. If you're going to get the best results every time . . . or even once in a while . . . you've got to see to it that the fish in farm ponds have the management and attention they need.

All farm ponds are pretty much alike, in that most of them are suitable for stocking with largemouth bass and bluegill sunfish. These two varieties of fish are the only combination that has consistently provided good fishing in the average farm pond. That's the answer to one of the questions that more and more farm pond owners and their friends have been bringing to our attention. It almost seems that the more farm ponds come into being, the more unhappy fishermen there are . . . because somebody didn't do something quite right . . . fish-wise.

To help answer some of these questions, a new extension circular has been published called "Fish in Your Farm Pond." It's number 452, and is now in our office. The circular gives you up-to-date information on how to stock your pond and fertilize it . . . and some important points on just how to manage a successful farm fish pond. It even gives you some hints on how to harvest your fish, in case you're rusty with the reel.

SEN. HUMPHREY APPLAUDS IKE'S ADVANCE STAND

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) applauded today as an "honorable position" President Eisenhower's reported assurance he will make no commitments on Asia at the Geneva conference.

Humphrey, a Senate Foreign Relations Committee member critical of some administration international policies, said in an interview:

"I don't want to see the Soviet Union built up into the position of becoming a broker for Asian countries. We should hold the Soviets accountable for the violations of the truces in Korea and Viet Nam, which they participated in making."

Dulles Leaves Today

"But it would not be the honorable thing for the Big Four to reach any decision on Asia in the absence of the Asians." Secretary of State Dulles, meanwhile, arranged to take off today with a party of top advisers for Paris, where he and the British and French foreign ministers will complete Western strategy for dealing with Soviet leaders in the Big Four summit talks opening Monday.

Saturday, after a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Council, Dulles expects to go on to Geneva. Eisenhower, leaving Washington Friday night after a nationwide radio and television broadcast, is scheduled to reach Geneva Saturday night.

Confers With Leaders

Eisenhower conferred yesterday with congressional leaders and reportedly emphasized that he considers the Geneva meeting to be a conference on European problems and on such global matters as arms reduction which are of direct concern to the four great powers.

Some members of Congress who sat in on that briefing reported that Eisenhower said he will not make any commitments on Asia. It is generally expected here that Soviet Premier Bulganin will raise Far Eastern questions at least to the extent of trying to get agreement from the Western Powers to a later meeting with Red China. Eisenhower and Dulles do not expect to agree to a Red China conference.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) said he interprets Eisenhower's reported position as one of "not talking behind the backs of the Asian nations."

Two Killed When Two Planes Collide

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A Trans World Airlines training plane and a light single-engine plane collided yesterday, killing two men aboard the smaller craft. The airlines' plane, which also had two men aboard, landed safely.

Killed were Thomas D. Jones, 28, a flying service instructor, and Samuel Hoyte Rempel Jr., 26, a TWA student co-pilot.

Whooping Crane Population Is Up

OTTAWA (AP) — The world's whooping crane population again is on the upswing with the known number of the birds now at 25. Four young birds were hatched this spring in a wildlife sanctuary in Canada.

The big cranes once numbered in the thousands but hunters and the advance of civilization brought their number to a low of 15 in 1941. There were 24 in 1953, then the total slumped to 21 last year when three cranes disappeared.

New Mexico Judge Posts A Warning

"While in this office, speak in low, soothing tone and do not disagree with me in any manner. TOO MUCH FILTER

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif. (AP) — Norman Sharpe, a professor at California State Polytechnic College, says he has devised a holder that removes more than 95 per cent of a cigarette's nicotine. He concedes commercial possibilities for the experimental filter are about nil because "it removes all the smoke and taste as well."

USAF ACADEMY OPENS MONDAY

DENVER (AP) — The U. S. Air Force Academy opened its doors to the first class of 306 cadets on Monday amid salutes from roaring jet bombers, the snap of martial music and inspirational words of Air Force leaders.

Secretary of the Air Force Harold G. Talbot told the cadets and 3,000 invited guests at Lowry Air Base that "It is to the human element that the Air Force Academy is dedicated, and especially, to the leadership we must have if our country is to survive."

Honor guards from the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis and the U. S. Military Academy at West Point paraded in review.

The air cadets were dressed in khaki trousers and shirts with Air Force blue caps and epaulets. They marched with precision into the dedication area on a taxi-way at Lowry, temporary headquarters of the academy until its permanent home is ready at Colorado Springs in 1957.

STATE SEEKING 7 PER CENT OF POLIO VACCINE

HARRISBURG (AP) — A plan to make Pennsylvania eligible for more than seven per cent of all Salk antipolio vaccine manufactured for commercial distribution in the nation has been approved by the state Health Department and the Advisory Health Board.

Secretary of Health Berwyn F. Mattison said the plan, drawn up by the Communicable Disease Division of the Health Department, now must be submitted to the U. S. Public Health Service for approval.

396,246 Inoculated

Following a meeting of the department and Advisory Board yesterday, the secretary explained the plan would provide 80 per cent of the available vaccine for allocation to practicing physicians and 20 per cent to the department for children of medically indigent families.

Mattison said an estimated 954,282 children from five to nine are eligible for inoculation in Pennsylvania when the vaccine is available.

Of that number 447,125 were enrolled in the first and second grades in schools and were eligible for vaccine from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Of these, 396,246 have already received the first dose of vaccine.

Mattison continued: "In order to assure equitable distribution of the vaccine while it is still in short supply, the state health department will require reports from clinics and physicians giving inoculations."

The secretary added that under the proposed plan copies of records of each shot would be given to the state and the child's parents. "The result of this plan will be to make vaccine available on an equitable basis to all eligible persons in the state," Mattison declared, adding:

"The extent to which it will be utilized will depend on the supply

Lands Her Plane In An Oat Field

ELMIRA, N. Y. (AP) — A Scranton, Pa., school teacher set her light plane down in an oat field yesterday after becoming lost on a cross-country flight.

Miss Jane Woelkers said she had some gasoline left but decided to land rather than look around for an airport at the last minute. She was uninjured and the plane was not damaged.

Miss Woelkers was attempting to qualify for her private pilot's license by flying from Wyoming Valley Airport, between Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, to Towanda, Pa. of vaccine and public acceptance of the program."

The secretary noted that the date when vaccine supplies will become available has not yet been set by the Public Health Service.

STATE MAY TEST POINT SYSTEM FOR LICENSES

HARRISBURG (AP)—The chairman of the Senate Highways Committee said today his group may "drop" the proposed point system bill for suspension or revocation of drivers' licenses if the Justice Department finds the proposal can be worked out on a trial basis without legislation.

Sen. Wade (R-Cumberland) said his committee will "wait" on the bill until the attorney general's office can see if the state "has the right to try it out."

Secretary of Revenue Gerald A. Gleason told the committee during public hearings on the bill yesterday that "I think I have the power to set up a point system under the present law."

He added that "I don't want it handed to me legislatively. It may not work."

Seek Best Method
Wade said that such a trial would supply needed information on what basis the system "would work best."

He noted that only 18 months are left until the next session of the Legislature and by then "we could have a much stronger bill."

The chairman agreed with Gleason that the point system would relieve "political pressure" in license suspension and revocation cases.

Gleason told the committee that "a lot of pressure" is created in administration of his department as a result of political appeals.

Under the proposed bill, law-breaking drivers would be charged with points in graduated numbers depending on the offense. When they had collected 10 points or more their license would be suspended for varying periods of time.

The bill was introduced with the bipartisan support of Wade and Sens. Scott (R-Carbon), Dent, Democratic floor leader, and Barr (D-Allegheny).

Favors Slow Start
In opposing establishment of the system yesterday, Gleason said he is "thinking seriously" of experimenting with such a setup. "I believe we should start slowly with such a system," he declared, "to see how it works."

Spokesmen for the Keystone Automobile Club, the Pennsylvania Motor Truck Assn. and the American Automobile Assn., however, urged passage of the measure before the committee.

Ernest Brett, Harrisburg manager of the Keystone group said, his organization "strongly favors the point system," which he said was currently installed in 13 states.

Under present law, a driver automatically has his license suspended for 90 days for speeding.

The proposed bill would set up a table of point valuations for motor code violations.

BROTHERS IN ARMS

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A pair of young brothers walked into a hospital together and walked out with new casts on their forearms. Ronald Satterfield, 7, said he broke his right arm when he ran into a tree. His brother Kenneth, 9, fell off his bicycle, fracturing his left arm.

Washington News Letter

By Jane Eads

WASHINGTON (AP)—The sudden rather flustered re-appearance of Lady Makins, wife of the British ambassador, at a huge cocktail party from which she had only a few seconds before departed caused heads to turn.

The good-looking American-born Lady Makins dashed straight through the reception room to the cloak-checking room, murmuring apologetically "I don't know how it happened, but I got myself buttoned into the wrong wrap."

"Dawling" Tallulah Bankhead, throaty actress daughter of a late speaker of the House, and niece of a late senator, "took on" the local press at a cocktail party with a temperature of 102 the evening before her opening in "Dear Charles" at the National.

The day before, a doctor in Philadelphia took her temperature and said: "You're dead," when the thermometer dropped to five degrees below normal. "Tallu" feels very much at home in capital company, fluctuating thermometer or no, and gave with a lively crosstalk through politics, baseball, theater, TV and personalities.

Lunched With Senator

She planned to have lunch with her home state Alabama Senator and Mrs. Lister Hill, and invited them and other old Capitol Hill friends, Senators John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.) and Alben Barkley (D-Ky.) and their wives and former Speaker Joe Martin who was a colleague of her father, to be guests at the show.

Arthur N. Green, husband of the new Democratic congresswoman from Oregon, who gave up his property management business back home to stay in Washington the next two years with his wife, doesn't pretend to be handy around the kitchen.

"When my wife isn't home in time for dinner, I guess I'll just eat out," he said.

FISH DIES IN TRAFFIC

HAWESVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Two motorists reported they ran over a fish recently.

They were driving on a road covered by floodwaters when bump, bumpity, bump! The car bucked as if it were running over a log. The men looked around and saw a 4-foot fish—probably a carp—floating away, his tummy skyward.

Don Mason, coach of Michigan State's freshman football team, was a star guard for the Spartans in 1949.
